LEARNING TO ADAPT

NATIONAL CLIMATE CHANGE ADAPTATION PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

2014/15

LEARNING TO ADAPT is a climate change adaptation professional development program for established environmental professionals delivering practical, hands on skills and knowledge at the postgraduate level.

LEARNING TO ADAPT is run over 3 separate full days of intensive collaborative learning with opportunities to apply your learning with your peers.

LEARNING TO ADAPT is designed by experienced sustainability educators to engage participants in case studies and exercises presented by recognised expert guest speakers in climate change adaptation.

At our short course pilot earlier this year participants said: "The course has been excellent and insightful"

"Excellent and needs to be expanded across a number of organisations and stakeholders"

"Speakers excellent"

"Above all the course has been practical!"

"Great course important to have a good level recognition"
